YOUNGMANGIVEN 30 DAYS IN JAIL

Ed Rogers Received Heavy Sentence
This Morning in Mayor's Court For Being Drunk.

WAS ALSO FINED $1 AND COSTS

Told Many Conflicting Stories and Refused to Tell Where he Obtained the Liquor.

For the first time since he has been in office, which has been almost a year, Mayor B. A. Black assessed a jail sentence with a fine this morning in police court.

Ed Rogers, who gave his age as 21 years, was up before the mayor, charged with being drunk. Rogers was found by Policeman Wolters yesterday afternoon in the west part of the city in a drunken condition and was lodged in jail.

When questioned by the mayor in court he said he didn't remember where he got the liquor and all that he knew was that he was drunk. The young man told many conflicting stories. He first said that he guessed he must have been in Indianapolis and on more questioning denied this.

Rogers then told the mayor that he met some fellows down at the Big Four depot who gave him a couple of drinks and after that he didn't remember anything. He did not even know the names of the men who had given him the drinks.

It was apparent to the mayor and Deputy Prosecutor Morgan that he had obtained the whiskey in the city, but all questions failed to disclose who had given it to him. "Give him thirty days, your honor, and maybe he will remember where he got it," said Prosecutor Morgan. But even this did not move the young man and he still refused to remember.

He was given one more chance and then fined one dollar and costs and given thirty days in jail. The mayor said he thought perhaps Rogers would remember where he got the whiskey by the time he had served this sentence.

Rogers makes his home at the Western hotel and had formerly been employed in one of the factories in this city.

OPENING TALK ON TOPIGS OF TIMES

Mrs. May W. Donnan Makes References to Articles of Value in Current Magazines.

TOUCHES ON OLD LEGENDS

Mrs. May W. Donnan's study class in "Legends in Literature" met in the parlors of the Christian church Saturday afternoon. Mrs. Donnan showed how the legends of Rhoeus, Teth-onus, Tiresias and Oenone had been told in poetry and popular tradition.
Analyses and interpretation of much of the best in English poetry accompany Mrs. Donnan's recounting of the stories and this is sufficient reason for wishing to know more about the rather unfamiliar legends.

Mrs. Donnan gave an interesting preliminary talk touching a variety of events, topics of the time, etc. The fresh book news and reference to articles to be found in current magazines, enable one to find what is of special interest or value.

JUST STOLE SQUARE MEAL

Thieves Enter Home of Mr. and Mrs.
Chauncey Duncan.

A thief or thieves paid the home of Chauncey Duncan on West Main street a visit Friday night some time after 1 o'clock, says the Greenfield Reporter. The thief entered through a dining room window and made a clean sweep of all the eatables in the house, including a dressed chicken.
A number of articles were taken from the pockets of Mr. Duncan's clothing, but no money was taken, as he had his money and watch in his bed room. Mrs. Duncan was away from home, having been called to Rushville on account of the illness of her father.

KEPT WEDDING A SECRET

Gwynneville Couple is Married But it Leaks Out.

Edward Evans, a prominent business man of Gwynneville, and Miss Pearl Ernest of the same place, were united in marriage there last Wednesday afternoon, by the Rev. S. M.
Hawthorne, pastor of the Christian church, says the Shelbyville News.
The fact that they were married did not become known in this city until last Saturday, though the marriage license had been issued by County Clerk Deitzer, one week ago last Tuesday. Mr. Evans is forty years old and is a native of England. He is the manager of the natural gas company at Gwynneville and has other business interests in the town and community. His bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ernest of Pennsylvania, formerly of Gwynne-ville. She has been at Gwynneville since last September visiting friends.

A recent investigation revealed the fact that there are about three thousand storage battery automobiles in Chicago.

RIGHT HERE IN RUSHVILLE.

Few people in Rush county could have made the trip with the Daily Republican Santa Claus fund wagon last Christ-day and not be convinced that twice the sum which was spent last Christmas could be used judiciously in making a happy day for the poor children of Rushville. No one really realizes some of the conditions right here in Rushville under the very nose of people who are comfortably enjoying life. As an illustration the following paragraph is used, which was printed in the Daily Republican, Monday, December 27, 1909, among the list of incidents given as a brief review of the trip of Santa Claus on Christmas day:

In a home in the northwest part of the city the whole family, father, mother and four children were sitting around the fire doing the best they could to forget that they had not received anything for Christmas. When a man from the sled suddenly appeared with his arms full of bundles for the children, real sunshine spread all over the home in a second. The father, who has worked hard, but whose luck seems to have been just as hard, could scarcely express his appreciation. He thanked the man, shook his hand and it was easy to see that he was thinking hundreds of things he couldn't express. The mother was just as thankful and the children—well it was the same sweet story with them.

HOLIDAY RUSH WELL STARTED

Rushville Stores Are Doing Extra Good Pre-Christmas Business And More is Expected.

OUTLOOK IS VERY UNUSUAL

Local Merchants Believe That Heaviest Holiday Trade Ever Experienced Here is Coming.

With Christmas day just twelve days away, Rushville and Rush county people are beginning to do their Christmas shopping in earnest.
Last Saturday was the first of the three big Saturdays to which the merchants look forward to before Christmas. Last Saturday and even today many city people were out shopping while the country was very heavy, heavier in fact, than it has been in years at this time before the holidays, according to many local business men. The indications are that this year's Christmas trade will equal, if not exceed that of last year.

All the shops and stores have laid in full stocks of holiday goods. It is a matter of common remark that the stores of Rushville never displayed a finer lot of Christmas wares than are now being offered. There is not a show window in all the down town quarter that does not contain something calculated to catch the fancy of the Christmas shopper. The trade seems to be pretty well divided. The people are not running to any particular line of presents. All the merchants are getting a share of the business.

These are the days of unalloyed delight for the little folks. They are beginning to infest the toy shops in almost countless numbers. Scores and hundreds of them were down town Saturday. They fairly congested the toy departments at the big stores and were almost as numerous at the smaller ones. This year's toys include many novelties never before offered.

At the jewelers' shops, drug stores and other places which make a specialty of Christmas wares, extra clerks will be employed from now on until the holidays. Several of the stores have already put on part of their extra help. Most of them, however, will not have their full force on until next Saturday. In nearly every instance a merchant engages these young ladies to help out with the holiday trade. Some of the stores engage their extras two or three months ahead of time. The dealer who puts off engaging his extra help until time for him to use it usually finds himself unable to get the most desirable kind.

The merchants expect next Saturday's trade to exceed last Saturday's, but all look for the big rush on Saturday, December 24, the day before Christmas. They say that in case of agreeable weather, Rushville stores will do more business that day than on any other one day in all their history. The weather is just right for holiday trade. In the country the farmers are practically all through with their work and can give special attention to Christmas shopping.
Furthermore, nearly every one of them has plenty of money to put into presents if he desires to do so.

BOARDS CONFER ON HOME FUTURE

Rush and Henry County Commissioners Meet in Spiceland Today to Reach Agreement.

DISPOSITION OF INSTITUTION

Local Board Unwilling to Buy Property While Others Favor That Plan.

The Rush county commissioners, Merrill Ball, Thomas Humes and Charles Kelso, sped away for Spice-land in an automobile this morning when the mercury was lurking near zero, to confer with the Henry county commissioners on the future of the Spiceland Orphans' Home, the matrons of which, Mrs. Ella Bundy, died last Wednesday morning and which is now without a head. The local board expected to hold a joint meeting with the Henry county board this morning at ten o'clock and take dinner at the home. It is not known exactly what disposition of the home will be made.

It is thought that the local board is very much averse to buying the property. It is said that the commissioners dislike to invest Rush county money in Henry county. County Auditor Jesse Stone said this morning that he was not at all in favor of the idea and that he did not believe one member of the board of commissioners would consider such a proposition.

There are other plans, however, which might be used to save the home for the two counties. It might be possible, as has been suggested here, to interest someone with the same plan which Mrs. Bundy used, namely for the person to buy the home, furnish everything and charge the two counties a certain amount for each orphan kept.

But it seems that no plan will suit the Henry county commissioners except to purchase it. According to the two New Castle papers the board there is heartily in favor of buying the property and the two counties operating it.

The Henry county commissioners held a meeting Saturday, when Hudson Lander of New Castle and Earl Churchill of Buffalo, New York, formerly of this city, both sons-in-law of Mrs. Bundy, who are looking after the estate, were present. The two men stated then that it was to the best interests of the estate to sell the home property. It was also said then that the price, which would be named, would not exceed the original cost of the property and that of the improvements added. The proposition was regarded as very fair and reasonable by the commissioners.

progressed. Frost was flying in the air early in the day while later a faint attempt at snowing was made.

WILL INVITE DR. HURTY TO VISIT

Union Township Advisory Board Plans to Extend Invitation to State Official.

VISIONS OF NEW STRUCTURE

Union township may have a new school house if the advisory board and the trustees of that township have anything to do with the matter.
They have put themselves down as being in favor of improvements, among which is to be found a new school building. The newly-elected advisory board and Trustee Martin held a meeting in Glenwood one day last week when plans were formulated for school improvements. John Reed, a member of the advisory board, and Dr. Smiley of Glenwood visited the Glenwood schools last Friday and have as a result concluded to invite Dr. J. N. Hurty to visit the institution of learning there and make a personal examination. A member of the advisory board remarked that a township with over $1,500,000 worth of assessable property should not allow its children to attend school under such conditions as those now prevalent.

HORSE SUIT BEGINS IN CIRCUIT COURT

Irwin G. Ritchey of New Haven, Conn., Wants $7000 From Big Four for Injuring Bessie V.

BOUGHT MARE OF GEO. WEEKS

A horse trial, not of the David Harum sort, started in the circuit court this afternoon, which promises to bring out some very amusing situations. Bessie V., a little brown mare, born and raised in this county and trained for several years by George Weeks, is the horse on which the whole controversy hinges.

Irwin G. Ritchey, a horse fancier of New Haven, Conn., has filed suit against the Big Four railroad for seven thousand dollars damages, alleging that the mare was injured, while yet in this city, after she was loaded on a car. Mr. Ritchey bought the horse of George Weeks for $2500, and avers that she was injured to a great extent while in a Big Four car in the yards here. Cary Cowgill, general counsel for the Big Four, and Smith, Cambern & Smith of this city are attorneys for the defendant, while Innis & Morgan of this city and W. J.
Beckett of Indianapolis are attorneys for the plaintiff.

The Daily Republican Santa Claus fund is still slowly growing and the managers are having visions of making it one hundred dollars by next Saturday night. Can it be done? It is believed that enough financially-able people still live in Rushville to rally to the cause and make it a success on the even of the time that it must close. $100 by next Saturday night is the slogan for this week.

One or two five-dollar subscriptions are coming to the fund this week, but it is desired that the small donators get in their good work. The twenty-five and fifty-cent subscriptions count if the little folks will send in a portion of their savings to help unfortunate little folks, whose homes will be cheerless on Christmas eve if the Santa Claus wagon does not stop. The children all over the city and county are beginning to subscribe more liberally and it is thought that by the end of the week, many of them will be sending in their small amounts each day. That was the experience of the managers last year that the biggest part of the donations came the last two weeks.

The beautiful piece of hammered brass work was placed on exhibition in the Hargrove & Mullin drug store window this afternoon to be sold to the highest bidder, the amount paid to go to the Santa Claus fund. Every time a new bid is made, it will be placed on a card beside the piece, so that a new bidder can tell what the high mark is. The piece is all handmade. It was made and donated by Louis H. Thatcher of the Rushville Art Brass company. It is a very artistic design and it will be worth your while to glance at it while passing Hargrove & Mullins.

The buying will be continued this week and it is to be hoped that it will be finished by next Saturday night.
The last week will be devoted to wrapping and completing arrangements for delivering. The women in charge of the bulk of the charity work are working untiringly to make the funds go as far as possible so that the most possible can be bought for the money.
Can it be reached? $100?

Writes Up "God's Country" The Far West In Great Style

Glen Hudson, a former Rushville boy, who has made good in the far west, writes of the city which is now his home and which, according to him is the greatest place on this terrestrial globe. After the usual greetings he writes:

Under separate cover I am sending you and several other of my Indiana friends, copies of "The Harbor of the Sun" an illustrated and descriptive booklet describing the advantages of the fastest growing city on the Pacific Coast. San Diego, as you will see on the map is in the extreme southwestern corner of the United States. A city of fifty thousand and optimistic minds.

It is easily discerned some of the reasons why the Californians love their state with a fierce affection—why they regard it as "God's country," with all the United States behind and all the world in front. Even a few weeks spent in this wonderland enables outsiders to appreciate a little better that sense of dumbness that a Californian feels when he is asked to describe his country to a tourist. They can understand his devoutness when he says: "I'd rather be a post-hole in California than a flagstaff anywhere else!"

Californians have always been dreamers. Hope and optimism flourish in their minds as the flowers do in their soil. Their thoughts leap toward the future. They know that with the cutting of the Panama Canal, San Francisco will be nearer New York by sea than St. Petersburg is now. They see facing them more than half of the human race in Asia and the islands of the Pacific. And they know that over one-third of the American people are looking forward to the seeing the State of all States sooner or later, and that the majority of these are seeking homes free from storm and the winters of the East. Some coming for health, some as sightseers, others, as investors. And lastly they believe that, in the lifetime of their children, San Francisco and Los Angeles will undoubtedly equal New York though large she is and Philadelphia, with twenty million people propering between Mount Shasta and San Diego.

To all except Californians it will always seem half like a tale of fancy, the size of this State. It will never be easy for an Easterner to believe that this one state is larger than the kingdoms of Belgium, Holland, Greece, Denmark, Portugal and Rumania that it is practically equal in size to New York, Pennsylvania, and all New England that it is as long as from New York to Indianapolis.

What California is and what her people have accomplished—the whole sixty-one years output of industry and genius, her gold, grain, fruit, oil, lumber, her literature and astronomy and railroad and commerce—all this is more than history. It is an American epic. It is a story that will be told and retold as long as this republic stands.

Were a fatidic finger to trace upon the thin veil covering the future of California, the city that most likely to rise above its present status in a decade, that name would be San Diego. That this city, close to the border of romantic Mexico, is to be a fine factor in the next chapter of western progress.

A hundred years ago the fair site of a friar mission; twenty-four years ago a village of 300 people; today a floating population of over 50,000. In 1900, census shows us 17,000, note the gain.

The modern city of San Diego was founded by A. E. Horton in 1867, who sailed into San Diego's bay a seasick Yankee. Having heard of this balmy climate and its great harbor, he was deeply interested. He bought immediately upon his arrival over one thousand acres of land at the cash price of twenty-six cents an acre. In the center of the city a square of 1400 acres are withheld for a city park recently named Balboa.

San Diego is the first and last American port of call between San Francisco and the Panama Canal. Claims the world's record receiving the largest wireless telegraph message in the world, at the local naval wireless station. The third city in California bank clearings, and fourth city in population in state. Best water and most complete sewer systems. Property the cheapest and schools best.

One million dollars was recently subscribed by the public-spirited citizens (whose faith in San Diego cannot be shaken) toward the Panama-California Exposition in 1915.

With this small glimpse at her past and present, who shall venture to set bounds.

Autos on the Old State Road

A growing appreciation of the historical value of the old Cumberland Road has induced the states through which it passes to undertake more or less extensive repairs along the ancient thoroughfare. Pennsylvania is resurfacing her part of it, and many of the counties in Ohio and Indiana are doing what they can to mend the great highway, which in its day was by far the most important in this country.

Hopes are entertained that the Federal government may be persuaded to co-operate with the States in a scheme for the reconstruction of the famous Pike all the way from Cumberland, Maryland, to its western terminus at St. Louis. Nearly eight hundred miles in length, and following an almost perfectly straight course from Atlantic tidewater to the Mississippi River, it would furnish a magnificent pathway for automobiles.

If this shall be accomplished, with or without the help from Congress, the old road will again become a busy thoroughfare. Taverns will open their hospitable doors at frequent intervals along its length, as in the ancient days, and the echoes of the hills in the passes of the Allegheny Mountains will be awakened by the cheerful honking of motor horns—just as in former times they responded to the merry tooting of the coach guards' trumpets. It would become the fashion for automobile parties to "do the Pike," the long straightaway stretches of which would afford most attractive opportunities for speeding, while a trip over it in a gasoline car might well be deemed worth taking for the mere sake of the extraordinarily picturesque and beautiful scenery.—From December Technical World Magazine.

CENSUS REPORT

Final Figures Make Population of the United States 93,402,151.

Washington, Dec. 12.—The total population of the United States is 93,402,151. This estimate, including Porto Rico and Hawaii, but not including the Philippine Islands, which at the last census, taken in 1903, was 7,635,426, shows that there are at present more than 101,000,000 persons who are living in territory owned by the United States.

The gain in population of the United States and its dependencies in the last decade is 16,145,521, or 20.9 per cent. The population of continental United States is 91,972,266, an increase of 15,977,691, or 21.1 per cent over 75,994,575 in 1900, when the increase was 13,046,861, or 20.7 per cent over 62,947,714, the total in 1890.

CHARGED WITH MURDER

Killing of Station Agent at Greencastle Two Years Ago Will Be Cleared Up.

Greencastle, Ind., Dec. 12.—The Putnam county grand jury returned an indictment against Jesse Simms, thirty-five years old, a Brazil (Ind.) blacksmith, charging him with the murder of Otis Hendren, Greencastle station agent for the Terre Haute, Indianapolis & Eastern Traction company, who was killed Sept. 28, 1908. Simms is in jail in this city. Simms denies his guilt. Although the officials believe they have the man who shot Hendren, the evidence surrounding the case is thought to be circumstantial.

She gave her age as seventeen years, but according to a circular in the hands of Chief of Detectives Roper, she is only sixteen. The girl is anxious to return to Salt Lake City for trial.

PEACE AGAIN REIGNS IN BRAZIL'S CAPITAL

But Not Until Hundreds Had Been Killed.

Rio Janeiro, Dec. 12.—The rebellious marine corps has surrendered and the government announces that it is again in control of the situation.

Two hundred civilians in the city and more than 200 of the mutineers on the island were killed in Saturday's fighting. Many government buildings, stores, warehouses and residences were damaged during the bombardment. Martial law has been declared for a period of thirty days.

It is reported that the causes leading up to Saturday's revolt are trivial. Two warships, land batteries and several destroyers took part in the bombardment of the island.

The mutineers on the scoutship Rio Grande do Sul again bombarded the city at 5 o'clock Sunday morning. The batteries ashore replied. The people at first seemed to be little concerned, but as the firing continued and casualties were frequent, they became panic-stricken and many of them hurriedly left for inland points. Quite a number of persons were wounded and the new market was seriously damaged.

Altogether Saturday's riot was the bloodiest affair of its kind that ever took place in South America. During the bombardment, which was kept up on both sides until the Cobra Island fort was demolished, panic reigned. The booming of the guns and the explosion of shells served to drive the people into a frenzy of excitement.

Whether by accident or design, two mines of nitro-glycerine were exploded under the feet of the mutineers as they were making their last stand. Bodies by the score were hurled high in the air, and the white flag run up immediately floated over only a mere remnant of the rebellious forces.

RESCUERS PERISH

Fifty Entombed While Searching For Bodies of Forty-Five Miners.

Winnipeg, Man., Dec. 12.—Fifty rescuers working in the Western Canadian collieries, Bellevue, where forty-five miners were entombed, suffered the same fate as their comrades. Eighteen men of the original number entombed were taken out alive and twenty-five bodies recovered when the shaft in which the rescuers were working tumbled in.

Working Game Through Children. Anderson, Ind., Dec. 12.—Joseph Smith, George Masson and A. J. Van Patton, who came here from Richmond a few days ago, were placed in the county jail when they were unable to give bond after being arrested on a charge of operating a lottery. Although the men had been here but three days, they had a number of little girls making a house to house canvass, selling numbers ranging from 1 to 25. When the numbers on a card were sold, the holder of the lucky number would receive a set of silverware.

Four Murdered on Farm. Kansas City, Dec. 12.—Mrs. Sarah Bernhard, seventy-five years old, her son George, forty years old, and a younger son and his wife were found murdered on the Bernhard farm near Martin City, twenty miles south of here. Officers believe that robbery was the motive of the murders, as the house had been ransacked and the pockets of the dead turned wringside out.

Another Huntsman Killed. Lafayette, Ind., Dec. 12.—Clyde L. Wagner, superintendent of schools of Attica, was killed instantly while hunting near Winthrop. He was aiming at a rabbit when he slipped and fell, falling on the muzzle of the gun, which was discharged.

Two Boys and a Gun. New Castle, Ind., Dec. 12.—Chester McCorkle, aged eighteen, was shot and instantly killed while hunting rabbits with his brother Samuel, aged fifteen. The younger brother fired the fatal shot accidentally.

We are Breaking Some Records

This season in suit and overcoat selling. Quite the best season our store has ever had. And the reason for this fact lies in the splendid values we give our patrons. The same good values are here for YOU—for everyone. Come and get them. You cannot go wrong in a suit or overcoat because we don't have the wrong kind. Probably you are aware of the fact that we are the selling agents for the famous United Clothes—no garments like these in this or any other locality at $10, $12, $15, $18 and $20.

With good clothes you will want good furnishings and good hats. We have them—the correct styles and priced right.

HORSE NOTES

(Western Horseman.)

Dick Wilson, the well-known Indiana trainer, who moved a year ago to Oregon, and who accompanied Capt. C. P. McCan, of Hood River, to Old Glory Sale, where the latter purchased The Bondsman, sire of the world's champion three-year-old trotter Colorado E., left early this week for Pleasanton, Cal., where he will remain until about June 15. In addition to his training stable, Mr. Wilson will have charge of The Bondsman, which will remain in the stud until that time and then will be shipped either to Portland or Salem, Ore., depending a great deal on the condition of the track at the former place. The Bondsman was shipped from New York to Lexington, Ky., and from there shipped to Pleasanton, Cal., along with a carload of brood mares which Capt. McCan has picked up during his visit here. The latter went directly to his home, but Mr. Wilson passed a few days visiting friends and relatives at Rushville. Mr. Wilson believes that The Bondsman will do an excellent business in the stud at Pleasanton, as there are large numbers of richly bred mares in that vicinity which will nick splendidly with this great representative of the Baron Wilkes family.

Woodcliffe King, 2:16 1/4 by Ashland Wilkes Jr., 2:24 1/4, dam Hula Chimes (dam of three), by Chimes, was one of the best three-year-old pacing stallions out in 1910, and is owned by Jas. Morrison, of Shelbyville, Ind., and Dave Wagoner, of Mankilla, Ind. He is a splendid individual, perfectly mannered, good gaited and goes clean. During the past season he won six races, his victories being at Montpelier, Logansport, Columbus, Russiaville, Marion and Terre Haute. At the latter place he raced and won against aged horses and in none of the events did he have a walkover as some of the fields had as many as thirteen starters, and that he was able to win in such hot company proves that he is a race horse right. Good judges believe that he could have gone in 2:10 or better over a half-mile track had he been called upon to do so, but he was able to win all of his races without getting out of the 2:17 class, and he should be one of the best prospects in the country next year in that class.

Curt Gosnell, of Cambridge City, Ind., who had his campaign cut short on account of ill health, is now in fine fettle and is looking forward to a successful season in 1911. He has several green prospects which are exceedingly promising. Mr. Gosnell drove Willie Benton in fifteen races the past season, winning seven of them and was out of the money but three times. He reduced his record from 2:06 1/2 to 2:05 1/4, and his campaign lasted from June 30 to October 1. He was also very successful with the pacing gelding, Harry K. Thaw, which he purchased at Dayton. He was six times first out of nine starts and took a record of 2:11 1/4. Celia W., 2:19 1/4, was outside of the money but twice in twelve starts and worked a mile in 2:12, and looks as though she would be mighty good in her class next year.

Hunters Past and Present

Nimrod was a mighty hunter who stood up in his chariot on fine mornings and was driven by his chauffeur through the hunting park in search of deer and other game. The hunting season was always open, and Nimrod's record was the best in the world, although he could probably have done better if pump guns had been in use then. But, "be that as it may," Nimrod gets most of the credit for all the hunting that was done in Old Testament times.

The real fun in hunting rabbits is the way boys hunt them. It requires a posse of boys and a dog or two. The fun consists in chasing a rabbit into a brush pile, shaking the brush until the rabbit runs out, and then chasing bunny into another brush pile. Many a boy hunts all day this way and brings home a pair of tired legs—his own.

Young rabbit is esteemed a delicacy sufficient to tempt an epicure. Broiled whole, it is second only to squirrel.

In the old days when a man could shoulder his gun and go any morning and shoot three or four squirrels out of a tree, the rabbit was considered poor eating. But times have changed and appetites are not so discriminating.

Dentists used to feel glad when rabbit season was on, because it increased their business. The delightful uncertainty of eating rabbit is that you never know when you are going to bite a few shots. The sensation is the same as eating cherry pie in its season.

The left hind foot of a rabbit—a "graveyard rabbit"—has great efficacy as a talisman in certain games of chance and skill, and is held in high repute among the colored population.

TO REACH SANTA CLAUS.
The children of Rushville and Rush county have a rare opportunity to reach Santa Claus. They may appeal to the time-honored giver of Christmas presents through the columns of the Daily Republican. He reads the Republican and he will likely not fail to answer their requests. Already the requests of a number of little folks have been published. It's best to get your orders in early and not cause Santa to be rushed at the last moment.

Another Car of Winter Vestibule Closed Buggies

The Greatest Comfort for the Traveling Public Ever Invented Up to the Present Time

No man with a family can afford to be without one of these Buggies. This is the best remedy for health that man ever invented, up to this time, 1910. This is the finest finished car in the world today, and THIS IS NO LIE. It is finished like a Palace Car. It is trimmed up-to-date, has curtains at the windows. Pull down the blinds and let the light shine in. For goodness sake buy one. Don't freeze your poor wife this winter.

Nothing is stronger than aversion.—Wycherly.

Gypsy Wordless Language.

To communicate with one another gypsies now use letters—and they use the telegraph, too, when necessary—especially in this country. But the modern Romany also follows the "patteran," tracing the footsteps or wagon tracks of his friends on the road by the same method employed by his ancient prototype, reading directions where no words are written as clearly as the gorgio does a roadside signboard. But the patteran can be read by the gypsy only—it is hidden and secret, although it may be in plain sight, as a signboard is open and public. The patteran may be formed of sticks or stones or grass placed cross fashion at the parting of roads in such manner that only a gypsy would instantly notice and understand. To him it means much—first of all, the direction taken by Romany predecessors.—Century Magazine.

The Hungarian Crown.

The Hungarian crown worn at their accession by the emperors of Austria as kings of Hungary is the identical one made for Stephen and used at his coronation over 800 years ago. The whole is of pure gold, except the settings, and weighs almost exactly fourteen pounds. The settings above alluded to consist of fifty-three sapphires, fifty rubies, one emerald and 338 pearls. It will be noticed that there are no diamonds among these precious adornments. This is accounted for by the oft quoted story of Stephen's aversion to such gems because he considered them "unlucky."

FOUR GENERATIONS THERE

Mrs. Lorendo Reed was the victim of a surprise party at the home of her son, Fleming Reed, east of Blue Ridge, a few days ago, says the Shelbyville Democrat. The occasion was in honor of the seventy-ninth anniversary of her birth. Mrs. Reed is the mother of three children, Fleming of Rush county; Hiram of Cass county, and Mrs. Dungan of this county. Although the other son and her daughter could not be present, yet there was a decided feature that is seldom witnessed at such events. Four generations were represented—Mrs. Reed, 79 years; Fleming, 62 years; Mrs. Nellie Piper, 22 years, and little Miss Pauline Piper, aged 3 years. Mrs. Reed was the recipient of many beautiful presents. The guests departed at a late hour after having wished the aged lady many more returns of the day.

The most startling dramatic sensation of the present season and one by the author of that former starter, "The Lion and the Mouse," is "The Third Degree," which, with the same elaborate stage equipment as characterized the former, comes to the Auditorium, in Connorsville, Friday evening, Dec. 16, under the management of Henry B. Harris, who also produced "The Lion and the Mouse."

Without a single improper line this play has succeeded by reason of its virility and without appealing to the morbid element that find their greatest theatrical entertainment in offcolor plays. It is no more than fitting that the man who wrote "The Lion and the Mouse" should come back and write another play that is even greater than its famous predecessor. It is the story of a girl of the people, who marries the son of an aristocratic family, for which she and her husband suffer social ostracism. At a momentous period she shows her worth by her untiring devotion and unselfish affection, thwarting the efforts of corrupt officials in their endeavor to make an innocent man the victim of misplaced justice.

Sarah Padden, in the role of the girl, illustrates the highest reach of emotional acting, and that the selection of Miss Padden for this part was a master-stroke for Mr. Harris, the producer, is best shown by the excellent criticisms accorded her work.

George Sumner, as Brewster, the lawyer, is admirably fitted to the part and gives a sterling performance.

Jack Ellis, about whom little that is not known can be said, in the part of Captain Clinton, who with tireless energy for seven long hours subjects his victim to a torture that can only be compared with those of the Spanish Inquisition, again demonstrates his worth as an actor of unusual ability.

William Pinkham, as the accused, offers as splendid an interpretation of the boy who is a hypnotic subject as has ever been seen in this country.

The rest of the cast suffer nothing by comparison with those whose names have been mentioned, and it is to their credit that much of the success of Mr. Klein's interesting play is due to their efforts.

which is now pending on appeal before the supreme court. Mr. Vandevanter was graduated from Asbury (now DePaul) university, and was a graduate of Cincinnati law school in 1881. After three years of practice in Indiana, he moved to Cheyenne, Wyo., and was appointed chief justice of the supreme court of Wyoming in 1889, while it was still a territory, and served later in the capacity by election. In 1897 he was appointed assistant attorney general of the United States and in 1903 was appointed United States circuit judge of the Eighth district, and has served there since.

SCHENK SHAMMING SAY THE LAWYERS

Contention of Defense in Alleged Poisoning Case.

Wheeling, W. Va., Dec. 12.—J. J. P. O'Brien and S. O. Boyce of counsel for Laura Farnsworth Schenk, accused of poisoning her millionaire husband, J. O. Schenk, had their first interview with Mr. Schenk Sunday. It lasted only fifteen minutes, and it was held in the presence of Dr. Frank LeMoine Hupp, the attending physician, who held the pulse of the patient and said it leaped every time a question was asked.

The attorneys explained afterward that it was only a social call, and they did not enter into the question of whether Schenk wanted his wife prosecuted. They asked him only two questions bearing on the case, and they refused to state what these were.

Attorney O'Brien, who is Mrs. Schenk's leading counsel, said he found Mr. Schenk to all appearances a well man, looking as robust as he ever did and showing no traces of sickness. It is a contention of the defense that Schenk has not been all at all, or that the seriousness of his condition was greatly exaggerated.

The greatest dangers from influenza is of its resulting in pneumonia. This can be obviated by using Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, as it not only cures influenza, but counteracts any tendency of the disease towards pneumonia. Sold by all dealers.

To Indian War Survivors

Harry Hegwer, national commander and C. R. Hauser, national secretary of the National Indiana War Veterans, have sent out the following notice:

We desire to obtain the addresses of all those who served on the Frontier against hostile Indians in the United States and Volunteer Service from the close of the Civil War until 1893, in order that their names may be placed on the books of the N. I. W. V. Association, so that they may benefit by the Act now pending before Congress, as soon as it becomes a Law.

The National Indiana War Veterans, organized for the purpose of procuring pensions for its members, have sent two of its Order, the National Commander, Henry Hegwer, and the National Secretary, C. R. Hauser, to Washington, D. C., there to inaugurate a vigorous campaign for the purpose of accomplishing this object.

Those brave and noble soldiers who so valiantly defended and protected the Western Frontier in the early days, making it possible for this generation to develop its unlimited resources and to live in peace and prosperity, are entitled to the same recognition that this Government so justly accords to Survivors of other Wars.

REDUCTION IN POSTAL DEFICIT

Eleven and a Half Millions Chopped From Big Debit.

HITCHCOCK MAKES REPORT

Postmaster General Renews Recommendation For Parcel Post—Loss in Rural Mail Service—Policy of the Department Is to Extend Service as Rapidly as Is Warranted by Increasing Population.

Washington, Dec. 12.—The annual report of Postmaster General Hitchcock says in part:

"A year ago the fiscal records of the postal service disclosed a deficit of $17,500,000, the largest in the history of the country. In the space of twelve months a reduction of $11,500,000 has been made in this deficit, the excess of expenditures over receipts as reported for the year ended June 30 last amounting to only $5,848,566.88.

"It is most gratifying to report that this unprecedented reduction has been made without any curtailment of postal facilities. On the contrary, the service has been largely extended.

"The recommendation made in the Parcel Post.

last annual report of the department for the introduction of a limited parcel post service on rural routes is earnestly renewed. It is believed that as soon as the postal savings system is thoroughly organized the postoffice department should be prepared to establish throughout the country a general parcel post.

"Next to the heavy loss resulting from the low postage rate on second class mail the principal inroad into the profits of the postal service is that made by the excessive cost of rural delivery. The large expenditures for rural mail service are far more justifiable, however, than are the much heavier payments required to meet the losses incurred on account of second class mail.

Postal Savings System.

"The board of trustees created by the act of June 25, 1910, to control, supervise and administer the postal savings system has made substantial progress in perfecting a plan of operation.

"After a most careful investigation and numerous conferences with leading bankers the board unanimously decided to adopt the plan of using certificates of deposit instead of pass books.

"The department's present policy, as already indicated, is to extend the service as rapidly as is warranted by increasing population and to accomplish its savings not by the curtailment of postal facilities, but by handling in a more systematic and businesslike manner the constantly expanding volume of the mails. In furtherance of this policy there were established during the year over 1,500 new postoffices, while the rural delivery system was greatly extended by putting into operation 515 new routes, traversing altogether 12,235 miles."

STEAMER WRECKED

Coasting Vessel Goes Ashore on Reef Off the Alaskan Coast.

Cordova, Alaska, Dec. 12.—The steamship Olympia is wrecked on Rocky Blight Island, forty miles from here.

The Olympia had 106 persons aboard of whom fifty-two are passengers. A terrible storm is raging and no word has come from the wireless operator on board since early Sunday morning.
Among the passengers who sailed from Cordova Saturday night are United States District Judge E. E.
Cushman and wife. When the vessel sailed a fifty-mile-an-hour gale was blowing. Between midnight and 1 o'clock Sunday morning the wireless operator at the navy station picked up a distress signal from the Olympia and answered it. A reply came urging immediate help, as the vessel was in an exposed position. As no call has been received since 4 o'clock, it is feared the ship has foundered.

Two Victims Within Hour.

Pendleton, Ind., Dec. 12.—Joseph Smiley, a laborer working with graders, saved a train from wreck, but lost his life. Workman scattered on the approach of a train, but Smiley leaped back to lift a heavy crowbar from across the rails, and the train cut his body in two. An hour before Smiley was killed John Oske, another laborer, was hit by a train and died almost at the same spot.

"Bad Bill" Killed in a Duel.

Lexington, Ky., Dec. 12.—In a revolver duel at Wiluhurst, Breathitt county, "Bad Bill" Bailey, a mountain desperado, was killed by J. S. Shepherd.
Shepherd was struck by a bullet during the fusillade of shots fired by the two men and badly wounded. It is said Bailey had a grievance against Shepherd and that he began the attack.

Bank Robbers Get $500.

Milton, Ind., Dec. 12.—Robbers blew the safe in the Farmers' bank, secured about $500 in currency, stole a horse and buggy from a livery stable and escaped.

TAFT NAMES MEN FOR HIGH COURT

Justice White To Succeed Chief Justice Fuller.

AN INDIANA MAN ALSO NAMED

Judge Willis Vandevanter, a Native Hoosier, Will Succeed to Vacancy Caused by Resignation of Justice Moody, and Judge Lamar of Augusta Will Succeed to Place Vacated by Advancement of White.

Washington, Dec. 12.—To take the place left vacant by Melville W. Fuller, Associate Justice Edward Douglas White of Louisiana will be advanced to the chief justiceship of the supreme court.

Joseph R. Lamar of Augusta, Ga., former justice of the supreme court of

EDWARD DOUGLAS WHITE.

that state, will be appointed an associate justice to succeed to the place left open by the advancement of Justice White.

Judge Willis Vandevanter of the Eighth judicial circuit will be named as associate justice to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Justice Moody.

Justice White and Mr. Lamar are Democrats and Judge Vandevanter is a Republican. The supreme court, when all the vacancies are filled, will stand six Republican and three Democrats.

President Taft has also made the following selections for the newly created commerce court: Presiding judge, to serve for five years, Martin A. Knapp of New York, the present chairman of the interstate commerce commission; judges of the court, Robert W. Archbald, now United States district judge of Pennsylvania, to serve four years; William H. Hunt of Montana, now associate justice of the customs court, to serve for three years; United States District Judge A. F. Dennison of Michigan, to serve for two years, and Julian W. Mack, a lawyer of Chicago, to serve for one year.

The president will appoint Prof. B.
H. Meyer of Wisconsin, now a member of the Wisconsin railroad securities investigating committee to the interstate commerce commission, to take the place left vacant by the advancement of Chairman Knapp. C. C.
McChord, a lawyer of Louisville, Ky., will be named to succeed F. M. Cockrill on the commission upon the expiration of the latter's term on Jan. 1.

The more important of the president's judicial selections have been definitely settled. The names of the men chosen were obtained from sources outside the White House, and the officials there declined either to confirm or deny the authenticity of the list. The president will send the full list of his nominations to the senate today for confirmation.

The selection of Justice White for chief justice came as a big surprise to official Washington, chiefly because he is a Democrat. When his name is sent to the senate it will be the first time that a Republican president has ever nominated a member of an opposing political party to this high office.
Justice White is sixty-five years old and has been a member of the supreme court for sixteen years. He has earned the reputation of being one of the ablest justices on the bench.
The advancement of Justice White will place a Confederate veteran in the highest judicial position in this country. Associate Justice Lurton, who was also appointed by Mr. Taft, is a Confederate veteran.

Judge Joseph R. Lamar, who has been named to take the place left vacant by Justice White's advancement, is fifty-three years old. He was born in Georgia and is one of the leaders of the southern bar. President Taft made Justice Lamar's acquaintance when he was spending the winter in Augusta after his election, and he came to admire the justice and to prize his friendship.

Judge Vandevanter, who is named to take the place left by the resignation of Justice Moody, was born in Marion, Ind., and is now fifty-one years old.
He was one of the judges of the Eighth circuit who voted against the Standard Oil company in the decision

WOMEN PRAISED FOR GOOD WORK

The Only Two Institutions of Their Kind in the World.

INDIANA'S NOTABLE PROGRESS

Legislative Committee's Visit to the Woman's Prison and the Girls' Industrial School Reveals the Gratifying Contrast Between Present Conditions and Those Which Obtained in "the Old Days."

Indianapolis, Dec. 12.—The legislative visiting committee has just concluded the inspection of the only state institutions in the world that are managed by women. They are the Indiana woman's prison in this city, and the Indiana girls' school at Clermont. At each place the superintendent and members of the board of trustees are women. Members of the committee expressed the belief that the men in charge of other state institutions will have to look to their laurels to equal the record set by the women, both in the financial management and in the care of the inmates.

At the woman's prison the contrast between the conditions now existing and those under which the prisoners were kept when the prison was a part of the Jeffersonville reformatory were held especially striking, and the trustees and superintendent were highly complimented by the committee.

"The early history of Indiana's woman's prison," said Representative Joseph M. Cravens, chairman of the committee, "is a forgotten page—never to be recalled—and it is gratifying, indeed to note the wonderful progress this institution has made both in care and manner of treatment of the inmates and the general administration of the affairs of the institution."

The woman's prison was moved to Indianapolis in 1869. Before this time it was a part of the Indiana state prison south at Jeffersonville, now the reformatory. The change was brought about through the influence of prominent women, who discovered the unspeakable abuses then in vogue at the institution. In 1899 it was changed to the Indiana Industrial School for Girls and Woman's Prison, and in 1903 the legislature provided for the separation of the girls' school from the woman's department, and the former was located at Clermont. The purpose of the school is to give delinquent girls, committed by the courts, a thorough training in domestic work and the principles of right living. Girls are taken between the ages of ten and eighteen and kept until twenty-one, unless paroled because of good conduct. The capacity of the institution is 245. The girls received during the last year number 114. The enrollment is 304, exceeding the capacity by 59 and making necessary the converting of the sitting rooms into dormitories.

Among the appropriations asked is $75,000 for the erection and equipment of two additional cottages, $24,500 for a hospital and $38,000 for an administration building.

The woman's prison is divided into two departments, a penal department, with a capacity of fifty, and a correctional department, with a capacity of 100. There are fifty-eight women in each department.

ROBBED FREIGHT TRAINS

This Is the Charge Brought Against Big Four Trainmen.

Indianapolis, Dec. 12.—An organized method of plundering freight cars, in which it may be shown several conductors and brakemen on the Big Four lines running out of Indianapolis were interested, has been uncovered.

Three trainmen have been arrested and will be taken to Danville, where they have been indicted on charges of burglary and larceny. Merchandise valued at $500 was recovered from the homes of the men. Those arrested are:
William L. Davis, conductor; Francis M. John, conductor, and Glenn C.
Sheller, brakeman.

With Indianapolis as a clearing point and their homes for "fences," it is alleged by the detectives, the railroad men have been systematically stealing from the railroad for months.
The railroad company is convinced that over $3,000 worth of goods has been stolen. It is said the men confessed.

Y. M. C. A. President Re-Elected.

Vincennes, Ind., Dec. 12.—The following officers were elected at the Y.
M. C. A. state convention held here: President, Sharon E. Jones, Richmond, re-elected; vice president, W.
C. Belfman, Hammond, re-elected; secretary, J. H. Baxter, Terre Haute; treasurer, John F. Wallick, Indianapolis, re-elected.

Arson Charge Not Sustained.

Bedford, Ind., Dec. 12.—Indicted on a charge of arson, Mrs. Anna Walker was acquitted. A house belonging to a neighbor was burned some months ago, and trouble over some land sales, owned by the Walkers, caused suspicion to rest against her.

GIVE CLEAN BILL TO SCHOOL BOARD

State Board of Accounts Commend Knightstown Officials, Saying Integrity is Perfect.

EXAMINED SIX YEARS BACK

"It is our pleasure to report that the affairs of the Knightstown, Ind., school town have been ably managed. The records are well kept, entirely clear and complete in every detail. We believe that perfect integrity and sound business judgment have been the prime factors in the affairs of the school corporation."

With the above statement, James D. Smith and John W. Barlow, field examiners of the State board of accounts, concluded their report of the examinations made of the school town of Knightstown during the period between July 31, 1904, and August 1, 1910. The examination was made of the affairs of the treasurers of the corporation during that period, Frank J. Vestal and E. C. Morgan.

AMUSEMENTS

The Star Gran theater wil have a complete change of program tonight The Palace offers two pictures for tonight. Both films are American Pathe. The first is entitled "The Motor Fiend." This is said to be a fine comedy. The second, "Bruges, Belgium" is a scenic picture.

The Vaudet has an extra attraction for tonight in a moving picture of the famous Miller Brothers' 101 Ranch.

The picture shows wonderful scenes of Western life, taken during the fall round-up on one of the largest diversified ranches in the world. 101 ranch has been a favorite show with the public for years and this picture is said to be an exact duplicate. A new illustrated song will be sung.
